Radiography Program Transferability

Graduates may advance in their profession by seeking a bachelor’s and master’s degree in the field of Radiologic Sciences or in a related field. Current program-to-program articulation agreements for Montgomery County Community College Radiography Program.

- Pennsylvania College of Technology
- Widener University
- Gwynedd-Mercy College
- Marian University
- Alvernia University

In addition, the College has general transfer agreements for students graduating with an A.A.S.:

- Immaculata University Bachelors of Arts in Health Care Management program
- Dongseo University in Busan, South Korea

There are also many face-to-face and online B.S. programs for radiographers which are accredited. For more information please contact the Radiography Program Director.

Transfer of credit earned from other programs/institutions

Courses with a grade value of 2.0 (C) or higher will be considered for transfer. Courses with a grade value of “pass” or “satisfactory” will be accepted as transfer credits when the transcript states that a “pass” or “satisfactory” is equivalent to a C or above. Transfer courses will be awarded credit with no grade value (quality points) assigned. Developmental coursework is not accepted for transfer credit but will be transcripted for prerequisite purposes.

In general, courses will be considered for transferability regardless of their age; however, some programs may restrict the age of courses used for program admission, prerequisite purposes and/or program completion.

Courses in Anatomy and Physiology or college level math courses which were not completed within 5 years prior to enrolling in the Radiography Program will not be considered in the Program admissions points system.

Presented credits that meet grade and curricular requirements will be accepted at the College, up to seventy-five percent (75%) of the credits required for an associate’s degree and fifty percent (50%) of the credits required for a certificate. A maximum of fifty percent (50%) of the major field of study requirements, as determined by the academic program coordinator/director, may be met by transfer credit to the extent that acceptance of the credits would not preclude further work in the major field of study.

Please see Transfer Student Admissions and Transfer Credits and Credit for Life Experience sections which can be located in the College Catalogue.
